The boom in franchising did not take place until after World War II. Nevertheless, the rudiments of modern franchising date back to the Middle Ages when landowners made franchise-like agreements with tax collectors, who retained a percentage of the money they collected and turned the rest over. The practice ended around 1562 but spread to other endeavors. The trampoline park industry may be saturated, but the opportunity for Urban Air to continue to expand as the Nation's LEADING family entertainment facility and only indoor family theme park is very strong.
