In this feature, we describe one of the key techniques of qualitative and ethnographic research: the focus group, which is often also referred to as the group interview. We shall here use the former term also to describe the latter, and will look at its main features, at the key tasks of the facilitator, at how to recruit for and organize a focus group, and finally where to go for further ... In positive psychology, a flow state, also known colloquially as being in the zone, is the mental state of operation in which a person performing an activity is fully immersed in a feeling of energized focus, full involvement, and enjoyment in the process of the activity. In essence, flow is characterized by complete absorption in what one does, and a resulting loss in one's sense of space and ... The de Bono Education Group Who We Are.
